Facebook pictures of the week

Remove Z has been learning about plant and animal cells this week. Yesterday, students learnt how to use a microscope and prepare a slide of their own cheek cells. Today, the students prepared slides of red onion cells and as you can see, the results are stunning. In less than 24 hours, the girls have become very competent Biologists

Duke of Edinburgh's Award

Congratulations to Olivia, Bella and Sophie who completed their Silver Qualifying Expedition in the New Forest over Half Term.
