Theme for the month:

Respect

This week we consider:

Respect for ourselves

Facebook picture of the week:

During the Lower Sixth enrichment lessons, Adrian Harbour came to The Ladies' College to demonstrate and run a session on Jiu-Jitsu with the whole of the year group. Jiu-Jitsu is a form of martial art that originated in Japan and allows a smaller person to effectively defend themselves against a larger attacker.

Frequently Asked Questions

How many GCSEs do the students take in Upper Five/ Year 11?

There are a number of pathways that can result in students taking anything from 7 to 11 GCSEs, to ensure that we can cater for each individual and help them to optimise their grades. All students take:

- Maths (1 GCSE and Statistics is taken by most of Set 1 which adds another GCSE)
- English (Literature and Language 2 GCSEs)
- Science (either separate Biology, Chemistry and Physics 3 GCSEs OR the Double Science 2 GCSEs OR Single Science 1 GCSE)
- 4 option subjects are available, as an open choice, which we then try to meet. There is also a Study Skills opportunity, which is usually taken instead of choosing a language, which helps to make the number of GCSEs more manageable for some students.

Why add more option choices?

This year we have added GCSE PE as a choice for the current Lower Five and we continue to keep the options under review.

There are a number of reasons for this:

- It responds to requests, although we cannot always do this. (See the question below).
- It helps to provide more breadth and the opportunity to develop skills which may not be met elsewhere.
- It may help the choices in the pathway after GCSEs.

Why not offer all subjects?

There are a number of reasons for this, including that the numbers need to be viable to make the new course run, whilst also avoiding a situation where the other subjects become unviable because there is so much choice.

We need to be confident that the demand will continue, especially as staffing needs to be assured for the subject and we want other GCSE course to be viable in terms of numbers too.

A number of subjects do not need to be taught at GCSE in order to take them into the Sixth Form. These are often the courses which we do not offer at GCSE. We do not want the choices made at GCSE to close doors. If we add more and more choice, the probability of satisfying individual choices decreases and the need to study the reserve choice increases.
