

4th February 2021

Dear Parent(s)/Guardian(s)

I hope you are safe and well and, if having to isolate, have the support you need during what is already a difficult lockdown period.

The students in the Upper Sixth have, once again, shown resilience, commitment and maturity, attending lessons and engaging with online learning. They were, of course, expecting to be sitting their mock examinations now and we share their sense of disappointment. We are liaising with our colleagues at Elizabeth College and will confirm updated arrangements as soon as possible. We appreciate your patience.

The Upper Sixth full report is due to be sent at the end of this term, and we have every intention to complete these as normal. In the meantime, should you have concerns about your daughter's progress in these last few months at College, please do not hesitate to contact me or your daughter's tutor.

Finally, a notification that the Principals' Lecture of 2021 will take place online after half-term. We are delighted to announce that the speakers will be Gill Morris, Executive Director of GPEG. She will be talking about what GPEG is and why it was created and Lord Digby Jones, discussing 'A Walk Around the World' – drawing upon his experiences of a lifetime spent in business, politics, and the media. The lecture will take place Monday 15th February starting at 18:00 and finishing at approximately 19:00. All Sixth Form students are encouraged to participate; attendance will be noted and carries credit towards the College Diploma. There will be an opportunity to ask questions. Details of how to access the event on Teams will be shared on the day.

Stay safe and well
