This week we consider:

Growth through change

Facebook pictures of the week:

As a special one off, the Principal got permission to bring her dog into assembly this week, Roxy, who looked dashing in her Ladies' College jumper.

Pets know that when you are sad the most powerful thing they can do is sit with you in that pain. So the next time you are with someone who is struggling, rather than trying to fix it or minimise or deflect, just sit with them in that moment, lean in, hold their hand, offer a cup of tea or piece of chocolate, and just be. They need to be reminded - they are not alone.
