This week we consider:

Growth through Change

Facebook picture of the week:

"Now no way can I stray; Save back to England." (Richard II)

Just like the Bard himself, centuries before them, the English Department have been exploring the literary lanes of London. From Westminster to Bloomsbury; from the singing wives of Henry VIII to the serious machinations of Lady Macbeth; from Europe's oldest texts to Europe's largest bookstore; from William Shakespeare to Virginia Woolf, the Sixth Form English students saw it all.

Throughout, our remarkable Sixth Form students were "such stuff as dreams are made on" (The Tempest) and embraced every literary opportunity on offer. We are now excited to return to the classroom and apply our newly discovered contextual knowledge.
