This week we consider:

Setting boundaries

Facebook pictures of the week:

In January 2024 it will be 100 years since Marie Randall MBE was elected to the States as the first woman to become a People's Deputy. To mark the centenary, a blue plaque has been placed on her childhood home, the former Vauxlaurens Brewery, now One St Julian's. The plaque was unveiled by the Deputy Bailiff, Jessica Roland.

Deputy Randall was a true pioneer. She served in the States of Guernsey for more than 30 years, retiring in 1955, and for 24 of those years, she was the only woman in the States.

The ceremony has particular significance for The Ladies' College as Marie was a pupil of the College so we were proud that representatives from each year group in the Senior School, and members of the Melrose School Council, could attend the unveiling, accompanied by Mr Henderson, Mrs Montague and Mrs Lavin.
