Strictly Come College Dancing was a sell-out. Six couples competed for the glitter ball prize as well as performances from our "professional" dancers, the students who showed off their skills.

The winners on Friday night were Dr Vanessa Mitchell and Mr Peter Fotheringham. On Saturday the winners were Mrs Sarah Morris and Mr Tom Lewis from Melrose, who went on to be the overall Strictly Come College Dancing champions.

The funds raised from ticket sales, the raffle and refreshments, which exceed £2,000, will jointly go towards Comic Relief and the A Gift for Learning fund

THE ART OF BEING BRILLIANT

World-renowned happiness expert Dr Andy Cope is coming to The Ladies' College to share some of his fascinating insights into the importance of happiness.

We're delighted to inform you that Andy will be hosting school assembly at The Ladies' College on Thursday 21st March, where he'll be sharing some of his insights into the art of happiness with Year 10 students from The Ladies' College, Elizabeth College and Blanchelande College.

Andy is a qualified teacher, best-selling children's author and 'recovering academic'.

To help bring his important messages to a younger audience, Andy has penned 'The Art of Being a Brilliant Teenager' and 'Diary of a Brilliant Kid'.

We hope this will be a brilliant, fun and inspiring experience for all the children involved. For more information on Andy, please visit www.artofbrilliance.co.uk
